INDUSTRYLINE

The right offer for every requirement:

STABILUS INDUSTRYLINE

Since its foundation in 1934, Stabilus has developed into the leading company in the sector, with innovative products and uncompromising quality. HAHN Gasfedern, another pioneer in gas spring technology, has been part of the Stabilus Group since 2016. We are now taking the next step together.

Our new IndustryLine immediately expands our product and service offer. Customers who need individual solutions, fast and agile development processes, and who seek small series or single units will find the perfect gas springs in the IndustryLine offer. And of course all at the usual high quality. All products are developed, produced and supplied in accordance with the highest standards of quality.
